Course Objectives and Student Learning Outcomes: Students will develop critical and deductive reasoning skills, demonstrate an understanding of the methods and principles of economics, and recognize the interrelationship between microeconomic theory and economic issues. Students will demonstrate mastery of the theories of demand, supply, consumer, production-cost, perfect competition, monopoly, and imperfect competition. Students will demonstrate an ability to evaluate public policy issues involving the social benefits and costs of free markets.

Grading: Your course grade will depend on your performance on homework, two midterm examinations, and a comprehensive final examination. Grades will be based on a curve. The weights are as follows:

- Homework 20% (Aplia, see last page of syllabus for more information)
- Exam 1 25% (Thursday of week 4)
- Exam 2 25% (Thursday of week 8)
- Final Exam 30% (Check OSU Web Page under Final Examination Schedule)

You may not use books, notes, or electronic devices during the exams. Make-Up and Extra Credit Policy: There is no extra credit available for this class. Make-up exams will be considered for legitimate and verified reasons only. Please notify the instructor as soon as possible if a make-up exam is warranted. Otherwise, you will receive a zero score.

University Guidelines: The University requires that I inform you of the following. (1) Academic Dishonesty: Plagiarism, fabrication, cheating, and facilitating academic dishonesty of others are serious offenses and may be punished by failure on the exam or project, failure in the course, and/or expulsion from the university. For further information refer to the Schedule of Classes and http://osu.orst.edu/admin/stucon/plag.htm. (2) Disruptive Behavior: Behaviors that are disruptive to teaching or learning will not be tolerated and will be referred to the Student Conduct Program for disciplinary action. Behaviors that create a hostile, offensive or intimidating environment based on gender, race, ethnicity, color, religion, age, disability, marital status or sexual orientation will be referred to the Affirmative Action Office. (3) Disabilities: If you have a documented disability which requires special arrangements, please inform me the first week of classes. To obtain university documentation for your disability, contact Services for Students with Disabilities at 541-737-4098 or Tracy.Bentley@orst.edu.
